

RETIREE HEALTHCARE PLANNING

We're here to help.

Healthcare in retirement

Retirement can be a confusing time regarding healthcare selection and requires thoughtful planning. Recent changes in the healthcare marketplace have made individual insurance plans more affordable and the responsibility of selecting a plan resides with you.

We have partnered with SelectQuote Benefit Solutions who can help you evaluate your healthcare options. They can answer your questions and help you select a healthcare plan that provides the right coverage for you and your dependents. This service is free and there is no obligation.

SelectQuote Benefit Solutions provides you with unbiased price comparisons from multiple insurance carriers on healthcare and Medicare plans. Their insurance exchange partner provides pre-65 retirees with 70+ carriers to choose from. Medicare-eligible retirees can compare multiple highly-rated Medicare Supplement, Medicare Advantage and Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Plans.

Their Medicare plans often provide equal or better coverage than employer-based insurance, generally with lower monthly premiums and gross savings of 25%-90%.

For Pre-65 individuals, the Affordable Care Act allows certain individuals coverage at a lower cost if eligible for federal subsidies. These subsidies are designed for people who earn between 138% and 400% of the Federal Poverty Line, currently about $28,725-$94,200 for a family of four or $15,856-$45,960 for an individual. If your income is under these limits, it may be more cost effective to purchase an individual policy and receive the subsidies to help pay the premium.

Distribution of Average Household Spending by Medicare Households

Healthcare expenses can consume 12-15% of income during retirement. Without adequate planning and risk protection, healthcare costs can significantly impact your wealth.
